The Texas Rural Health Association's (TRHA) annual Outstanding Program Award recognizes rural health projects that make a significant difference in improving the health of residents in Texas communities. This award will be presented during the Texas Rural Health Association's Awards Luncheon in Austin, Texas Tuesday, October 11, 2016.

TRHA has invited rural stakeholders to come and discuss the many challenges that rural healthcare providers and communities are currently facing. We invite you to take part as well by submitting your award nominations and participating in our annual conference.

The TRHA Outstanding Program Award will recognize three to five programs or projects that have gone the extra mile for its citizens by implementing a health care project that has made a significant difference both for the people and for the community it serves. Each winner will be honored at the forum conference luncheon. The nominees must have made a positive difference in their communities, implemented a program that could be replicated, and benefited a rural population.
