Why Attend

After repeated staffing crises and quality concerns with locum tenens physicians, other options for ED staffing must be seriously considered. This seminar will present a model for emergency care with dedicated emergency medicine trained advanced clinical practitioners (physician assistants and nurse practitioners) and our model for providing outstanding care in over 140 rural hospitals emergency departments with telemedicine.

Learn about the latest innovations from telemedicine providers, hear how telemedicine can improve your emergency room patient care, network with colleagues, meet with vendors who can help you get started with your telemedicine needs right away!

Who Should Attend

This seminar is ideal for anyone who is beginning to research how to incorporate telemedicine services into their emergency room clinical practice.

Telemedicine In Action

I would like to take a moment to share a recent patient experience in the Emergency Department here, and the positive aspects of care delivery achieved through of Telemedicine collaboration with EC Physicians.

On 9-17-17, I received EMS report of a patient with substernal chest pain, shortness of breath and significant hypotension. Identifying immediately that this was likely a significant cardiac event I prepared to contact EC Physicians through telemedicine. Upon arrival, and after brief assessment with ECG I did contact Dr. Patterson via telemedicine. I updated him as to EMS report patient vitals, assessment, and he was able to view ECG at that time. Dr. Patterson was helpful and pleasant. Not only did he agree to accept patient to expedite care, but further went on to give me contact information for Cardiologist for expert cardiology consultation.

Cardiologist also responded immediate and was available to view ECG as well. Through this timely collaboration I was able to evaluate patient needs, initiate critical treatment under expert consultation in order to stabilize him, and ultimately arrange for transfer to an appropriate facility where he could receive definitive treatment for a life threatening condition. It was less than one hour from the time of the patients arrival in the Emergency department there to the time he was leaving under Paramedics care via ambulance to EC where the physicians there as well as a cardiologist awaited his arrival and were abreast to his condition as well as treatment prior to arrival.

This telemedicine collaboration has provided a great service to this community. As a provider I am grateful to these EC physicians for their service and assistance and for the opportunity to bring exceptional and timely care to the members of the rural Community, Texas.

Carol, MSN, APRN, FNP-C
